

‘Katharine Barnwell’

While old tales of God’s harvest workers have their place, it is time for a new generation of Christians to be awestruck by a new “great” in the missionary hall of fame—and as the most influential Bible translator in church history and the mother of modern missions, Katharine Barnwell is just the woman for the job.

ABOUT JORDAN MONSON

Jordan Monson is the Professor of Missions and Old Testament at Huntington University and the Director of the Center for Faith Integration and Vocation at Huntington University. Jordan is also an investigative writer at Christianity Today, regularly contributing some of their longest and most successful cover stories and print features. He and his wife Aubrey and their three sons are recent transplants to Indiana from St. Paul, Minnesota. Jordan’s latest book, Katharine Barnwell, will be available nationwide April 29, 2025.
